1:08 PM me: got a google wave account?
Mark: no
1:09 PM me: let me know if you have any ideas regarding any potential ways in which to improve upon man's communicational abilities via the internet and the political blogosphere in particular 1:10 PM Mark: ha. that's an adequately grand theme me: damn right I got Andrew Stein already coding basic software around which our project will be centered he's going to request funding from some venture capitalists who've invited him to present a project 1:11 PM Charles Johnson's on board plus I'm going to recruit some other bloggers to participate once it comes out 1:12 PM Mark: what's your basic selling point?
me: I'll send you what Stein's composed thus far informal mostly until I rewrite it 1:13 PM Mark: k

5 minutes

1:19 PM Mark: "informal" is an understatement

1:52 PM me: oh, hey
1:53 PM so I gave that lecture the other day and I may be able to do another one for this philosophy professor at some other school and trying to figure out where I could sign up to do further lectures, like a speaker's bureau or something of the sort let me know if you have any info on that 1:54 PM Mark: i take it it went well but i haven't heard of anything like that me: yep indeed, my publisher and publicist came, too, took a video of it very well
